OUR BACKGROUND

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler, headquartered just outside of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, with an office in Walnut Creek, California, specializes in representing shareholders and consumers in complex class action litigation in state and federal courts throughout the United States. Since our inception, SBTK has recovered billions of dollars on behalf of defrauded shareholders and aggrieved consumers. The firm is led by its senior partners, Richard S. Schiffrin, Andrew L. Barroway, Marc A. Topaz, and David Kessler, with assistance from partners Stuart L. Berman, Katharine M. Ryan, Gregory M. Castaldo, Michael K. Yarnoff, Joseph H. Meltzer, Darren J. Check, Tobias L. Millrood, Andrew L. Zivitz, Sean M. Handler, John A. Kehoe, Lee D. Rudy, Kay E. Sickles and Eric L. Zagar, and numerous experienced associates and staff.

SBTK focuses on the prosecution of securities fraud actions and derivative and transactional litigation brought against public companies, their officers and directors, and their auditors and investment banking firms. In addition, SBTK represents employees in ERISA/401K actions. Institutional and individual consumers are represented in antitrust and consumer fraud actions as well as mass tort and product liability actions.

Throughout our history, SBTK has represented all types of institutional investors, including public and multi-employer pension funds, mutual fund managers, hedge funds, insurance companies, investment advisors, as well as thousands of individual investors in securities fraud, derivative and transactional class actions. Currently, SBTK is serving as Lead or Co-Lead Counsel in several high profile securities class actions against companies such as Tyco, Tenet Healthcare, Sprint and Delphi. In addition, SBTK has played a prominent role in the following precedent-setting actions:

In re Initial Public Offering Securities Litigation,
Master File No. 21 MC 92 (SAS)
(S.D.N.Y. Dec. 12, 2002):

SBTK is one of only six law firms comprising Plaintiffs' Counsel's Executive Committee, and was selected from over sixty law firms which had brought such actions. This litigation challenges the legality of the IPO allocations practices of virtually all of the major investment banking firms from 1998 through 2000, and encompasses over 300 coordinated actions.

In re AremisSoft Corp. Securities Litigation,
C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002):

SBTK is Lead Counsel in this extraordinarily complex securities fraud class action involving the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company who are now fugitives. SBTK is particularly proud of a settlement it helped to craft with the Company. The Settlement allowed for the Company to be reorganized as a new Company so it could continue operations, while establishing a litigation trust to pursue claims against the Company's auditors and its counsel, as well as those individuals who looted the Company. The Settlement further provides the harmed shareholders with a majority of the equity in the new company, as well as their pro rata share of all monies recovered by the litigation trust. The Court-appointed co-trustees of the litigation trust have retained SBTK to continue prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust. SBTK currently is litigating this action in the Isle of Man, where it has successfully frozen more than $200 million of stolen funds from one of the fugitives, and is working hard to recover this money on behalf of all beneficiaries of the litigation trust. The litigation also is continuing with respect to the remaining fugitive.

MONITORING YOUR PORTFOLIO

Securities Tracker Portfolio Monitoring Program

Institutional fiduciaries are charged with the important responsibility of protecting their investments. This responsibility takes on even greater importance considering today's well-publicized growing trend of corporate fraud and malfeasance.

SBTK offers institutional investors its valuable portfolio monitoring services at no charge. This comprehensive service is intended to allow our clients to more effectively fulfill their fiduciary obligations and efficiently track all class actions in which they have a financial interest.

SBTK requests a five-year history of securities transactions from the client or its custodial bank, preferably in electronic format, and immediately integrates that information into its proprietary database. SBTK then seeks to obtain quarterly updates to transaction information. Of course, SBTK will work with the client and its custodial bank to obtain this information in the easiest and most expeditious manner.

Our Proprietary Tracking System

Working with database experts, SBTK has developed a proprietary monitoring system which has been dubbed "Securities Tracker." This system allows for quick and easy integration of a client's transactions. In addition, Securities Tracker allows for quick access and accurate sorting of a client's transactional history to easily identify a client's potential losses in new cases and to assist in determining if the client has a financial interest in a case in which there is a recovery on behalf of the plaintiff class.

Securities Tracker provides a complete solution to tracking class actions which affect your investments and ensuring the recovery of all settlement monies to which you are entitled.

Benefits to the Client

New Cases: Whenever a new class action is filed and it is determined that a client may have suffered losses in that action, a brief, yet concise report which details the relevant facts, class period, jurisdiction, deadlines, and strengths and weaknesses of the case is provided to the client. In addition, this report contains the estimated losses suffered by the client and damages suffered by the class (when available at this early stage), and a recommendation for how the client should proceed.

Quarterly Reports: SBTK will also issue to its clients for whom it monitors a quarterly report which details the status of each class action in which a client has a financial interest regardless of whether the client is a lead plaintiff. The report further provides updates on all settled cases as well as cases which have been dismissed.

Claims Administration: Institutional investors do not always prepare and file Proof of Claim forms which are required to participate in recoveries. In fact, a recent study determined that only 28% of institutional investors are filing class action claim forms and are thus potentially leaving billions of dollars unclaimed. As a result, many institutions are not maximizing recoveries on behalf of their investors. The most common reason institutions fail to file claims is that the fiduciaries are not aware that a lawsuit was filed or that there was a recovery. Through SBTK's monitoring service, we assist our institutional clients with fulfilling their fiduciary responsibilities by identifying when lawsuits have been filed and resolved. In addition, upon request, SBTK will assist with completing and filing the necessary claim forms.

WHY SHOULD INSTITUTIONS GET INVOLVED?

1. Institutional fiduciaries oversee the financial security of their funds. As such, they must take reasonable steps to monitor all real and potential claims arising from fraud and malfeasance by corporate wrongdoers.
2. Since the passage of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 — which specifically encouraged institutional investors to participate as lead plaintiffs in securities class actions — settlement recoveries have increased dramatically. In fact, a recent study by NERA Economic Consulting revealed that securities class actions with institutional investors as lead plaintiff settled for one-third more than those with individual investors serving as lead plaintiff.
3. Institutions typically are able to negotiate larger settlements while simultaneously lowering legal fee rates, both of which increase recoveries for investors.
4. Institutions frequently bring a certain level of sophistication and experience to each case which often proves to be an asset in developing litigation and trial strategy or negotiating a settlement.
5. Litigation has emerged as an important vehicle available to institutional investors to obtain extensive and significant corporate governance changes, such as:
 - Mandate annually elected Boards controlled by independent directors;
 - Separate Chairman of the Board and CEO offices;
 - Require that at least two-thirds of the Board shall be independent directors;
 - Require immediate public disclosure of all sales or purchases of a company's stock by any corporate officer or director;
 - Establish director term limits;
 - Limit the number of boards a director may sit on;
 - Eliminate "super-voting" classes of stock;
 - Restrict/limit stock options;
 - Rotate outside auditors; and
 - Limit executive compensation.

How Can Institutions Get Involved?

The best way for institutional fiduciaries to protect their investments and to maximize the recovery of lost assets is to actively monitor market developments. Recognizing that this is a time-consuming and expensive process, SBTK offers a monitoring service designed to enable institutions to identify important events in the marketplace and discuss what effect, if any, those events have on their investments. SBTK will discuss the merits of claims filed as well as potential claims, and evaluate all legal rights and options recovery. This service allows institutional investors to efficiently assess all claims and to take any steps necessary to protect assets, without disrupting their business.

There is no cost or obligation for this service and SBTK handles all class actions on a fully contingent basis. SBTK is only paid if the litigation is successful and, win or lose, Pennsylvania law allows for the responsibility for all costs and expenses to rest with us.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

What Is Corporate Governance?

The term "corporate governance" refers to the policies, procedures, systems and structures by which the board of directors of a corporation oversees and manages the activities of the company for the benefit of its shareholders. Corporate governance is the instrument that defines and makes effective the relationship between the directors and managers of a company and the shareholders whom they serve. Thus, corporate governance encompasses such matters as:

- The size, structure, and membership of the board of directors and its committees
- The manner in which directors and committee members are nominated and elected
- The rights and responsibilities of directors and management
- The rights and responsibilities of shareholders
- Policies and procedures relating to accounting, auditing, and financial reporting
- Policies and procedures relating to executive compensation

Why Is Corporate Governance Important to Shareholders?

Strong and effective corporate governance serves as a system of checks and balances that takes account of the interests of shareholders without unduly constraining the functioning of management. Ultimately, the goal of corporate governance is to maximize the long-term value of the corporation for the benefit of its shareholders. Numerous academic studies have demonstrated a strong correlation between corporate governance and company performance, and, in particular, have shown that companies with strong corporate governance produce better long-term returns for shareholders, are more profitable and less volatile, and are less likely to commit fraud or other corporate wrongdoing. Improving a company's corporate governance is one of the most effective means for institutional investors and other long-term shareholders to make their voices heard in the board room, and thereby protect and advance their long-term interests.

What Corporate Governance Principles Are Most Important to Shareholders?

Independence and Autonomy

The foundation for all good corporate governance is a board of directors that is not merely independent on its face, but is also willing and able to act independently of management. This means, among other things, that the vast majority of board members, including the chairperson of the board, should be "outside" directors who have no substantial personal, financial, business, or employment connections with management. Indeed, the surest way to ensure that the board of directors functions in a truly independent fashion is for directors to be nominated by shareholders rather than by management. Simply put, directors nominated and/or selected by shareholders are the only directors who have a real economic incentive to act in the best interests of shareholders rather than the interests of management. Thus, measures that expand shareholders' access to and influence on the director nomination process should be highly sought.

Diligence and Proactivity

The interests of shareholders are best served by directors who not only diligently monitor the conduct of management with appropriate objectivity and skepticism, but who also proactively guide and oversee the activities of the corporation with an eye towards creating and preserving long-term value. Corporate governance measures designed to achieve these goals, such as limiting the number of corporate boards and committees on which directors serve, adopting reforms to strengthen internal and external auditing functions, and planning for succession of key executives and board members, all inure to the benefit of shareholders.

Openness and Accountability

Directors are more likely to fulfill their duty to represent the interests of shareholders when the board functions in an open and accessible manner and shareholders have the means to hold directors accountable if they fail to perform. For example, corporate governance measures that require the Board to disclose the background and rationale for decisions on director nominations, executive compensation, and other matters that affect the interests of shareholders, should be pursued. To hold directors accountable, director and committee-person term limits, annual election of all directors, and other measures are each designed to ensure that directors remain responsive to shareholders.

How Does Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler Assist Shareholders in Improving Corporate Governance?

SBTK advances the corporate governance agenda on behalf of shareholders through both litigation and direct action. As one of the leading firms in the nation representing shareholders in securities class action and shareholder derivative litigation, SBTK believes that litigation can be used not only as a means to recover monetary losses, but also as a vehicle to implement corporate governance reform in appropriate cases.

In addition to its successful litigation practice, SBTK assists shareholders in improving corporate governance through direct action, including bylaw amendments, director nominations, and other means by which shareholders can assert direct and substantial influence on the composition and functioning of boards of directors. SBTK also works closely with leading corporate governance experts, organized labor, and other shareholder advocates to promote public policies that compel or encourage corporations to adopt corporate governance measures that serve the interests of shareholders.

ANNUAL RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF INSTITUTIONAL INVESTORS SEMINAR

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler serves as the exclusive sponsor of the annual Rights and Responsibilities of Institutional Investors seminar. The seminar is presented by Institutional Investor Conferences in Amsterdam, Netherlands, and is dedicated to educating investors about their legal rights and responsibilities with respect to their investments, particularly those investments on U.S. exchanges. This annual meeting provides a forum for leaders in the investment and legal community to explore the role that active ownership and shareholder rights can play in better serving their funds and their beneficiaries.

Each year over 100 senior executives and legal and compliance professionals from public pension plans, mutual fund companies, hedge funds, insurance companies, and other institutional investors and their advisors from around the globe come together to share experiences and learn more about approaches to active ownership and what they can do to protect and enhance their assets. Speakers have included Vice President Al Gore, United States Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman Harvey L. Pitt, as well as representatives from many of the world's largest institutional investors and the academic community.

The seminar is a reflection of SBTK's commitment to not only serving as legal counsel to its clients, but also as an educator on all issues related to shareholder activism and asset protection and recovery. The firm's philosophy is that an educated client not only serves itself better, but under the right circumstances serves the interests of others as well.

PRACTICE AREAS

Securities Class Actions

The federal securities laws were designed to promote honesty and integrity within the securities markets, which depend on full and fair disclosure of all material facts regarding public companies. Only when public companies adhere to this standard will there be a "level playing field" for investors. However, when full and fair disclosure of all material facts is not made, one or more of the public company, its officers and directors, as well as certain of the company's advisors may be in violation of the federal securities laws. In such instances, a securities class action may be initiated by one or more investors on behalf of all investors who are similarly situated, who suffered damages as a result of purchasing the company's securities at artificially inflated prices.

SBTK is currently prosecuting numerous securities class action lawsuits as the court-appointed lead or co-lead counsel in federal courts throughout the country. Several of these cases are against high-profile companies such as Tyco, Tenet Healthcare, Sprint, Delphi, and PNC Bank, to name a few. For a more comprehensive review of the various cases in which SBTK has prosecuted in its twenty-year history, please refer to the "Noteworthy Recoveries" section of this booklet.

Shareholder Derivative Actions

A shareholder derivative action is a lawsuit brought by a shareholder of a public company, on behalf of, and for the benefit of, the company. In essence, the shareholder is bringing an action that the company has a right to and should bring, but it does not, due to the improper influence an officer and/or director is exercising over the company's affairs. Derivative actions are usually litigated under state corporation laws.

For example, a derivative class action may be appropriate where the company's officers and/or directors are engaged in self-dealing, where the company is selling a corporate asset to an officer and/or director of the company at a price below fair market value. Because the company is being harmed, this is a legal right that the company should enforce, but sometimes does not. Based on this example, a plaintiff shareholder of the company could allege that the company breached fiduciary duties (a legal concept which usually includes ideas of "fair dealing," "good faith" and "loyalty") owed to company shareholders and the company itself. If a derivative action is favorably resolved for the plaintiffs, the officer and/or director who was harming the company may be required to make monetary payments to the company. In addition, a successful derivative action may also include important corporate governance changes, so that the type of conduct complained of in the derivative action will not occur again. If either one (or both) of these forms of relief is accomplished, all current shareholders will benefit and it may have a positive effect on the company's stock price.

Mergers and Acquisitions

These class actions are brought to protect and defend the rights and privileges of public shareholders whose companies have entered into management-led buyouts, mergers, or other similar business combinations. Directors of a publicly traded company owe the company's public shareholders the tripartite fiduciary duties of due care, loyalty, and full and fair disclosure. Unfortunately, in the merger context, directors often fail to fulfill these duties as a result of material conflicts of interest. Shareholder interests are commonly overlooked and/or disregarded entirely in favor of the interests of directors, management, or a company's majority shareholder. SBTK has prosecuted numerous class actions on behalf of shareholders who have been unfairly or inadequately treated in a merger or business combination. SBTK has achieved substantial recoveries in many of these cases, including: (1) millions of dollars in increased consideration for shareholders' shares; (2) the disclosure of material information which enables a shareholder to better judge the fairness of a proposed transaction; and (3) other types of therapeutic relief designed to protect and maximize shareholder value.

ERISA Litigation

SBTK is also at the forefront of protecting the rights of employees. The firm's ERISA Litigation Department specializes in breach of fiduciary duty actions brought pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Many of these suits involve fiduciary breaches by a company in the administration of an employee benefit plan. For example, a company sponsoring and administering a defined contribution 401(k) plan for the benefit of its employees, has a fiduciary duty to ensure that plan assets (including employer securities) are directed to appropriate and prudent investment vehicles.

This duty is sometimes breached, particularly where a company deems investment in its own equities appropriate despite having access to information that clearly indicates otherwise. This conflict of interest and the resultant losses can be devastating to employees who often depend on their 401(k) accounts as a principal source of retirement income.

SBTK commits considerable resources to litigating claims on behalf of pension plan participants and is currently prosecuting more than two dozen ERISA actions nationwide as lead or co-lead counsel against companies including El Paso, Northwest, Polaroid, JDS Uniphase, and Schering-Plough. In addition, the firm has served as lead or co-lead counsel in cases against AOL Time Warner, Honeywell, and Bristol-Myers, which have resulted in recovery of well over $250 million for pension plan participants.

Antitrust/Consumer Litigation

Antitrust Litigation: Antitrust class actions brought pursuant to federal and state antitrust laws, are initiated by claimants injured by anti-competitive conduct of suppliers, purchasers, competitors and others. This includes anti-competitive conduct occurring abroad which affects United States markets. Violations of the antitrust laws include price-fixing, bid-rigging, monopolization, resale price maintenance and price discrimination. The antitrust laws also prohibit corporate mergers and acquisitions so large and encompassing that, if consummated, would likely inhibit competition and other corporate conduct designed with the intention to be predatory or to monopolize. Recently, drug manufacturers have been the focus of many high profile antitrust actions as a result of their efforts to maintain their monopoly of certain drugs following the expiration of their patent. In an effort to extend the patents on their products manufacturers have gone so far as to initiate patent infringement suits against generic brand drug manufacturers and entered into collusive licensing arrangements with generic manufacturers.

SBTK combats this anti-competitive conduct through class action litigation and has been appointed by courts to leadership positions in several important antitrust actions filed in courts throughout the country. SBTK represents many third-party payors in these cases, including public entities and Taft-Hartley Health & Welfare funds.

Consumer Litigation: SBTK also specializes in litigation on behalf of consumers. More broadly, consumer fraud describes a wide range of improper practices that may involve advertising, marketing and/or the sale of goods or services. Consumer fraud class actions are initiated, for example, when a company overcharges or improperly charges consumers for goods or services, or runs deceptive or misleading ads for its products. Companies also commit consumer fraud when they interpret a contract or agreement in a manner that unfairly disadvantages consumers.

SBTK has taken a prominent role in prosecuting claims against pharmaceutical companies, medical device manufacturers, life insurance companies, private mortgage insurers, and credit card companies which have resulted in significant monetary recoveries and changes in corporate policies on a class-wide basis.

Mass Tort Litigation

SBTK's Mass Tort Department is a powerful force for consumers and victims harmed by pharmaceutical drugs and medical device products. Over the years, pharmaceutical companies have made increasingly significant efforts to receive quicker approval for new drug applications. A natural result of the shortened time period is that the rush to approval sacrifices the careful scrutiny over safety that a drug must have before being approved. As a result, many drugs that received approval in the late 1990's, have either been withdrawn or are being petitioned for removal from the market. Additionally, the number of consumers injured by pharmaceutical products has risen since the change to fast tracking drugs. The attorneys in our Mass Tort Department work diligently to represent individuals harmed by the pharmaceutical and medical device industry, and in being among a small group of trial lawyers who are willing to fight big pharmaceutical companies. To successfully pursue such cases, the firm has brought together a team of experienced and dedicated trial attorneys. Currently, we are litigating cases involving Vioxx® (and Cox-2 Inhibitor Drugs), Hormone Replacement Therapy (Prempro/Premarin), Fen Phen, Ephedra and Baycol. Additionally, our Mass Tort attorneys continue to keep a vigilant eye on the actions of the pharmaceutical industry and its interaction with the Food and Drug Administration. All too often, pharmaceutical companies continue to fail to comply with FDA requirements to investigate or warn about drug problems. Until satisfactory regulation of this industry is once again imposed, the only corrective deterrent for this industry's behavior will come at the hands of the individuals and attorneys who are willing to stand up to big pharmaceutical companies and hold them accountable.

NOTEWORTHY RECOVERIES

During the firm's successful history, SBTK has recovered billions of dollars for defrauded stockholders and consumers. The following are among the firm's notable achievements:

In re Tenet Healthcare Corp. Securities Litigation, No. CV-02-8462-RSWL (Rx) (C.D. Cal. 2002):

SBTK serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of the State of New Jersey and its Division of Investment against Tenet Healthcare Corp. and certain of its former officers and directors. Among other things, the Lead Plaintiff alleges that defendants made a series of materially false or misleading statements and omissions concerning Tenet's business model and financial health from January 11, 2000 through November 7, 2002. After defeating defendants' motions to dismiss and performing substantial document and deposition discovery, a partial settlement has been reached in the amount of $216.5 million in cash which will be submitted for preliminary approval by the Court in the coming weeks. The Partial Settlement is being funded primarily by Tenet and its insurance carriers ($215 million), with personal contributions in the aggregate amount of $1.5 million being made by two of Tenet's former officers, Jeffrey Barbakow and Thomas Mackey. In addition to the substantial cash recovery, the prosecution of this action has played a prominent role in Tenet's initiation of sweeping corporate governance reforms which have led to Tenet being ranked by various institutional rating entities as among the best corporations in America for its corporate governance. The case will continue against KPMG as the Court denied KPMG's motion to dismiss the action in its entirety in December, 2005.

In re AremisSoft Corp. Securities Litigation, C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002):

SBTK is particularly proud of the results recently achieved in this case before the Honorable Joel A. Pisano. This case was exceedingly complicated, as it involved the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company, who are now fugitives. In settling the action, SBTK, as sole Lead Counsel, assisted in reorganizing the Company as a new Company to allow for it to continue operations, while successfully separating out the securities fraud claims and the bankrupt Company's claims into a litigation trust. The Settlement, which was recently approved, calls for the class to receive the majority of the equity in the new Company, as well as their pro rata share of any amounts recovered by the litigation trust. The Court-appointed co-trustees, Joseph P. LaSala, Esq. and Fred S. Zeidman, have retained SBTK to continue prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust. In this capacity, we have filed an action in the Isle of Man, and have successfully frozen more than $200 million of stolen funds from one of the fugitives, and are in the process of attempting to recover the money on behalf of the trust. In addition, we are continuing to litigate the trust's claims against the remaining fugitive.

In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 6527 (S.D.N.Y. 2002):

SBTK served as sole Lead Counsel in this action on behalf of an institutional investor and recently received final approval of a settlement consisting of $20 million in cash and 6,551,725 shares of IPG common stock with expected distribution by early summer 2005. As of February 2005, the stock had an approximate value of $87 million, resulting in a total settlement value of approximately $107 million. In granting its approval, the Court praised SBTK for acting responsibly and noted the firm's professionalism, competence and contribution to achieving such a favorable result.

In re Digital Lightwave, Inc. Securities Litigation, Consolidated Case No. 98-152-CIV-T-24E (M.D. Fla. 1999):

The firm served as Co-Lead Counsel in one of the nation's most successful securities class actions. After extensive litigation and negotiations, a settlement consisting primarily of stock ultimately grew to a value of over $170 million between the time in which the settlement was negotiated and the time at which it was distributed. SBTK took on the primary role in negotiating the terms of the equity component, insisting that the class have the right to share in any upward appreciation in the value of the stock after the settlement was reached. This recovery represented an astounding approximately two hundred percent (200%) of class members' losses. We believe that this represents the largest percentage recovery for shareholders in securities class action history.

In re Initial Public Offering Securities Litigation, Master File No. 21 MC 92 (SAS) (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 12, 2002):

SBTK holds a prominent position as an Executive Committee member in this action. Of the sixty plaintiffs firms which originally filed actions in these coordinated proceedings, SBTK was one of only six selected to serve on the Executive Committee. The coordinated actions, which have been filed against 309 separate issuers of publicly traded securities, challenge the legality of the practices which accompany the allocations of shares in initial public offerings. In addition to suing the issuers of such securities, the 309 coordinated actions also name as defendants the primary investment banking firms which underwrote the offerings. This case, which has received a great deal of national and international media attention, is widely considered the largest securities class action litigation in history. At the present time, the Court has preliminarily approved a $1 billion settlement with the insurers and their officers and directors. The case is proceeding against the underwriting defendants.

In re Global Crossing, Ltd. ERISA Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 7453 (S.D.N.Y. 2004):

SBTK served as Co-Lead Counsel in this complex and high-profile action which alleged that certain directors and officers of Global Crossing, a former high-flier of the late 1990's tech stock boom, breached their fiduciary duties under the Employee retirement Income Security Act of 1974 to certain company-provided 401(k) plans and their participants. These breaches surrounded the plans' alleged imprudent investment in Global Crossing stock during a time when defendants knew, or should have known, that the company was facing imminent bankruptcy. A settlement of plaintiffs' claims restoring $79 million to the Plans and their participants was approved in November 2004. At the time, this represented the largest recovery received in a company stock ERISA class action.

In re Honeywell International ERISA Litigation, No. 03-1214 (DRD) (D.N.J. 2004):

SBTK is serving as Lead Counsel in a breach of fiduciary duty case under ERISA against Honeywell International, Inc. and certain fiduciaries of Honeywell pension plans. The suit alleges that Honeywell and the individual fiduciary defendants, allowed Honeywell's 401(k) plans and their participants to imprudently invest significant assets in company stock, despite that defendants knew, or should have known, that Honeywell's stock was an imprudent investment due to undisclosed, wide-ranging problems stemming from a consummated merger with Allied Signal and a failed merger with General Electric. A settlement of plaintiffs' claims, which includes a $14 million payment to the plans and their affected participants, and significant structural relief affording participants much greater leeway in diversifying their retirement savings portfolios, is currently pending court approval.

In re Remeron Antitrust Litigation, No. 02-CV-2007 (D.N.J. 2004):

SBTK is Co-Lead Counsel in an action challenging Organon, Inc.'s filing of certain patents and patent infringement lawsuits as an abuse of the Hatch-Waxman Act, and an effort to unlawfully extend their monopoly in the market for Remeron. Specifically, the lawsuit alleges that defendants violated state and federal antitrust laws in their efforts to keep competing products from entering the market, and seeks damages sustained by consumers and third-party payors. After lengthy litigation, including numerous motions and over 50 depositions, the matter settled for $36 million. The settlement is pending final approval by the court.

Henry v. Sears, et al., Case No. 98 C 4110 (N.D. Ill. 1999):

The firm served as Co-Lead Counsel for one of the largest consumer class actions in history, consisting of approximately 11 million Sears credit card holders whose interest rates were improperly increased in connection with the transfer of the credit card accounts to a national bank. SBTK successfully negotiated a settlement representing approximately 66% of all class members' damages, thereby providing a total benefit exceeding $156 million. All $156 million was distributed automatically to the Class members, without the filing of a single proof of claim form. In approving the settlement, the District Court stated: "... I am pleased to approve the settlement. I think it does the best that could be done under the circumstances on behalf of the class. ... The litigation was complex in both liability and damages and required both professional skill and standing which class counsel demonstrated in abundance."

Jordan v. State Farm Insurance Company, Case No. 97 CH 11 (Cir. Ct., McLean County, Ill. 1998):

Plaintiffs alleged that State Farm had engaged in fraudulent sales practices known as "churning," and marketing and selling "vanishing premium" policies that do not actually "vanish." After several years of discovery, motion practice and settlement negotiations, SBTK, as Liaison Counsel, successfully resolved the action for $225 million in cash, dividend enhancements and other monetary benefits for current and former State Farm policyholders.

In re Liberate Technologies Securities Litigation, No. C-02-5017 (MJJ) (N.D. Cal. 2005):

Plaintiffs alleged that Liberate engaged in fraudulent revenue recognition practices to artificially inflate the price of its stock, ultimately forcing it to restate its earnings. As sole Lead Counsel, SBTK successfully negotiated a $13.8 million settlement, which represents almost 40% of the damages suffered by the class. In approving the settlement, the district court complimented Lead Counsel for its "extremely credible and competent job."

In re InfoSpace, Inc. Securities Litigation, Master File No. C-01-0913-Z (D. Wash. 2001):

SBTK served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that InfoSpace and certain of its officers and directors overstated revenues by using improper accounting methods, overstated the demand for InfoSpace's wireless services, misstated InfoSpace's financial relationships with major customers, and falsely represented that InfoSpace would receive subscription fees from users of web-enabled cell phones. After two years of hard-fought litigation and complex mediation, a settlement of $34.3 million was obtained for members of the class.

In re Riverstone Networks, Inc. Securities Litigation, Case No. CV-02-3581 (N.D. Cal. 2002):

SBTK served as sole lead counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that Riverstone and certain of its officers and directors sought to create the impression that the Company, despite the industry-wide downturn in the telecom sector, had the ability to prosper and succeed and was actually prospering. In that regard, plaintiffs alleged that defendants issued a series of false and misleading statements concerning the Company's financial condition, sales and prospects, and used inside information to personally profit. After extensive litigation, the parties entered into formal mediation with the Honorable Charles Legge (Ret.). Following five months of mediation, the parties reached a settlement of $18.5 million which has been preliminarily approved by the Court.

In re Assisted Living Concepts, Inc. Securities Litigation, Lead Case No. 99-167-AA (D. Or. 1999):

SBTK served as Co-Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a $30 million recovery for class members from the Company, its executive officers and directors, and several underwriters for their role in an alleged complex accounting fraud involving the use of a purportedly independent joint venture to absorb the Company's start-up losses. Even after this $30 million recovery, through counsel's efforts, an additional $12.5 million was obtained from the auditors providing for a total recovery of $42.5 million.

Wanstrath v. Doctor R. Crants, et al., No. 99-1719-111 (Tenn. Chan. Ct., 20th Judicial District, 1999):

SBTK served as Lead Counsel in a derivative action filed against the officers and directors of Prison Realty Trust, Inc., challenging the transfer of assets from the Company to a private entity owned by several of the Company's top insiders. Numerous federal securities class actions were pending against the Company at this time. Through the derivative litigation, the Company's top management was ousted, the composition of the Board of Directors was significantly improved, and important corporate governance provisions were put in place to prevent future abuse. Mr. Schiffman, in addition to achieving these desirable results, was able to personally effectuate a global settlement of all pending litigation against the backdrop of an almost certain bankruptcy. The case was resolved in conjunction with the federal securities cases for the payment of approximately $50 million by the Company's insurers and the issuance of over 46 million shares to the class members.

In re Cumulus Media Inc. Securities Litigation, Lead Case No. 00-C-391 E.D. Wis. 2000):

SBTK served as Lead Counsel and successfully litigated the action and negotiated a settlement of $13 million in cash and 240,000 shares of freely tradable stock in Cumulus Media, which traded for approximately $19 per share, for a total settlement value of $17.5 million at the time the settlement was approved by the Court.

"I know you know that I take this responsibility seriously and try to think hard about these issues. And I do want to compliment class counsel. I think that you behaved responsibly here and gave very good service to the class. They were well served by you."

— The Honorable Denise Cote of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York addressing SBTK in the context of approving the settlement of In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT CLASS ACTIONS

1. What is a class action?

A class action is a representative lawsuit which allows an individual or entity to initiate a lawsuit on behalf of other individuals or entities that are in the same or similar circumstances with respect to a given defendant. A class action is appropriate when many people have been affected by a company's course of conduct in a similar fashion.

2. What is a class period?

A class period is a range of dates within which a company is alleged to have been engaged in improper conduct. The attorneys investigating and prosecuting a case will review the facts of the case, and along with the court-appointed Lead Plaintiff, determine the appropriate beginning and end of a class period. Sometimes, after an initial complaint is filed, a class period will be lengthened or shortened as an investigation continues. If you purchased the securities of a company during a class period, you are automatically a class member, regardless of whether you specifically retain a law firm to prosecute claims on your behalf. This "class membership" concept is also true with respect to consumer fraud class actions and antitrust class actions. For example, if you purchased goods from a company that was accused of improper marketing practices during the relevant period of time (the class period), you would be a member of the class for a consumer fraud class action, even if you did not personally retain an attorney.

3. What is a lead plaintiff?

A lead plaintiff in a class action brought pursuant to the federal securities laws, sometimes referred to as a named plaintiff or representative party, is typically appointed by the court within 90 days of the publication of a notice of the pendency of the class action. In these types of actions, the court selects the class member or members most capable of representing the interests of the "absent" class members. There is a statutory presumption that the class period investor or investors with the largest financial losses, who are otherwise typical of the "absent" class members and are adequate to represent those class members, are considered the "most adequate" plaintiff.

Courts have appointed individuals, groups of individuals, institutional investors, groups of institutions, or even combinations of both as lead plaintiff as the circumstances of each case may dictate. The lead plaintiff selects counsel to represent the lead plaintiff and the class, and these attorneys if approved by the court are lead counsel or class counsel.

4. How long does it take to prosecute a class action?

The time to prosecute each class action varies based on the facts, parties, and jurisdiction of a particular case. It is not unusual for a class action to take up to 3 years to complete.

5. What is contingency fee litigation?

Contingency fee litigation refers to situations where attorneys get paid only if they win the case at trial or if the action settles. Attorneys who practice on a contingent fee arrangement typically do not receive any form of monetary payment from a client at the outset of a litigation. Rather, the attorneys' fees are paid only once there is a successful resolution from any settlement or judgment that is achieved. There are no out-of-pocket expenses for the plaintiffs as Pennsylvania law allows SBTK to advance all such costs on behalf of its clients. SBTK handles virtually all of its cases on a contingency fee basis.

6. What will it cost to be involved in a class action?

Because SBTK prosecutes class actions on a contingency fee basis, there are no out-of-pocket fees or expenses paid by the client, regardless of the outcome of the case. If we are successful in obtaining a recovery for the class, we will apply to the court for a fee that fairly represents the work performed and risk assumed by SBTK. In securities class actions, attorneys' fees typically are awarded as a percentage of the relief achieved by the attorneys for the class. These percentages vary considerably based on the size of the recovery for the class, the length and complexity of the litigation, and several other factors.

7. Will my out-of-pocket loss equal my damages?

Damages are a complex legal calculation that may or may not equal your out-of-pocket loss, which is a purely economic calculation. To establish damages in securities class actions, lead counsel typically hires experts to determine the extent by which a company's stock is artificially inflated during the relevant class period. Because there are often other factors which contribute to stock movement, factors which experts readily assess, one's damages are not necessarily the equivalent of out-of-pocket loss.

8. Do I have to keep my stock to participate in a securities class action?

No. As long as you purchased during the class period, you are eligible to participate in any recovery that the class enjoys regardless of your current holdings.

9. Why should I sign up with Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler?

SBTK has specialized in class action litigation for nearly twenty years, and has represented all types of investors in recovering financial losses caused by fraud or other misconduct. SBTK has developed a nationwide reputation for excellence and has recovered over one billion dollars for victims of fraud and other corporate misconduct.

"Now this goes back to the original approval of the securities fraud settlement because I found in my opinion approving the settlement that counsel for the class were to be commended because they cast their lot along with their clients. That is to say that counsel's fees were to be determined and paid in accordance with the way the class members were going to be paid; that this was, in my view, a creative and unique approach to the problem of paying fees to class counsel in a securities fraud case."

— The Honorable Joel A. Pisano of the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey approving the settlement in In re AramisSoft Corporation Securities Litigation.

EUROPEAN, ASIAN AND OTHER NON-U.S. INVESTORS

Historically, institutional investors based outside the United States have refrained from seeking leadership roles in securities fraud class actions brought in United States courts. The simple reason is that many of these institutional investors are not aware that they may assert claims in the United States. Recently, however, courts in the United States have appointed a growing number of foreign institutional investors as lead plaintiffs in class actions on behalf of both United States and foreign investors. As such, there is an increased incentive for foreign investors, especially foreign institutional investors which have suffered substantial losses, to step forward to lead securities fraud and derivative class actions in the United States.

Despite the fact that many foreign institutional investors lose many millions of dollars as a result of corporate fraud, frequently these investors are not aware that they may pursue claims based on these losses. In fact, some foreign institutions are not even aware that certain actions were filed until after the deadline for filing a lead plaintiff application has passed. Similarly, foreign institutions often miss out on recovering some or all of their financial losses when a lawsuit settles or a judgment is reached, if the proper claim form is not submitted in a timely fashion.

SBTK has extensive experience working with investors worldwide, including institutions located outside the United States, such as in Europe, Asia, Canada, Australia and South America. The firm offers the same professional services to all of its institutional clients, including those located outside the United States. One valuable service the firm provides is regularly monitoring our institutional clients' investment portfolios so that we can properly advise our clients as to potential securities claims and whether our clients had financial losses as a result. At no cost to our clients, we investigate all potential claims and cross-reference those claims against our clients' trading histories. We personally discuss all pertinent facts and legal options with our clients so that they can properly evaluate if and how they will seek to recover losses. Additionally, regardless of whether our clients decide to pursue formal legal action, we provide our clients with detailed updates on the progress of all litigation which impact our clients' interests. As a result, our clients are best positioned to protect their rights and interests at all stages of litigation.

STUDY FINDS THAT INSTITUTIONAL OWNERSHIP IN SECURITIES CLASS ACTIONS

By: Darren J. Check, Esquire

St. John's University School of Law Professor and noted scholar on securities class actions litigation, Michael A. Perino, recently published a study which found that the participation of institutional investors and public pension funds in particular at least plaintiffs in securities class actions during the period adds significant value to the economic of those cases. Professor Perino found that when public pension funds serve as lead plaintiffs, the class achieves a larger settlement, measured as a higher percentage of the potential total damages, produced greater return to the investors, and accounted for lower attorney fee requests and awards. The study further demonstrates that the study was published during the pendency of the Public Securities Litigation Reform Act ("PSLRA") of 1995, it is likely to evaluate whether the legislation achieved its stated purpose of generating settlements that are in the best interests of investors with the goal of reducing the costs of securities class actions to lead plaintiffs. The study is available on the website of the PSLRA, for a full copy of Professor Perino's study, see <http://www.pslra.com/>.

PARTNERS

Richard S. Schiffrin

Richard S. Schiffrin, founding partner of the firm, is licensed to practice law in Illinois and Pennsylvania, and has been admitted to practice before numerous United States District Courts. In his seven years of practice with the Office of the Public Defender of Cook County, Illinois, Mr. Schiffrin represented hundreds of clients in both bench and jury trials, as well as appeals. Mr. Schiffrin has also taught legal writing and appellate advocacy at John Marshall Law School and has served as a faculty member at numerous legal seminars, including the Annual Institute on Securities Regulation, NERA: Finance, Law & Economics — Securities Litigation Seminar, the Tulane Corporate Law Institute, and the CityBar Center for CLE (NYC): Ethical Issues in the Practice of Securities Law.

Most recently, Mr. Schiffrin spoke at the MultiPensions 2005 Conference in Amsterdam, Netherlands; the Public Funds Symposium 2005 in Washington, D.C.; the European Pension Symposium in Florence, Italy; and the Pennsylvania Public Employees Retirement Summit (PAPERS) in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Mr. Schiffrin oversees all aspects of litigation on behalf of the firm. Mr. Schiffrin has been recognized for his expertise in numerous cases, including most prominently:

In re AramisSoft Corp. Securities Litigation, C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler is particularly proud of the results achieved in this case before the Honorable Joel A. Pisano. This case was exceedingly complicated, as it involved the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company, some of whom remain fugitives. In settling the action, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler, as sole Lead Counsel, assisted in reorganizing the Company as a new Company which allowed for it to continue operations, while successfully separating out the securities fraud claims and the bankrupt Company's claims into a litigation trust. The Settlement, approved by the court, enabled the class to receive the majority of the equity in the new Company, as well as their pro rata share of all amounts recovered by the litigation trust. The court-appointed co-trustees, Joseph P. LaSala, Esq. and Fred S. Zeidman, retained Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler to further assist with prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust.

After filing an action in the Isle of Man, where the trust successfully froze more than $200 million of stolen funds from one of the fugitives, the trust achieved a settlement of this action for $200 million, which was returned to the United States and paid to the trust. Recently, the trust commenced another action in Cyprus, where it obtained a Mareva injunction and interim ancillary relief against bank accounts and assets owned and/or controlled by the other principal wrongdoer.

Thus far, counsel on behalf of the trust and its beneficiaries have achieved settlements with the Company and certain of its directors and officers as well as the Company's auditors, lawyer and underwriters, for a total of more than $250 million. The beneficiaries of the trust have already received in excess of 28% of their recognized losses.

Henry v. Sears, et al., Case No. 98 C 4110 (N.D. Ill. 1999):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel on behalf of the largest class of credit card holders in history. At stake was the right of Sears and its newly formed affiliate, Sears National Bank ("SNB"), to retroactively increase the interest rates on eleven million credit card accounts with outstanding balances resulting from purchases made prior to the accounts being transferred to SNB. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler alleged that such conduct violated the Truth-in-Lending Act, the National Banking Act and state consumer fraud statutes. After extensively litigating various aspects of liability, an additional nine months were then spent determining damages. The extraordinary complexity of the damage calculations required Mr. Schiffrin and experts from both parties to develop, test and utilize a novel computer model to ascertain total damages for the class and individualized damages for each class member. Ultimately, Mr. Schiffrin and his partner, Mr. Kessler, were able to negotiate a $156 million settlement, which represented approximately 66% of total damages. In approving the settlement, District Court Judge Leinenwebber of the Northern District of Illinois stated:

... I am pleased to approve the settlement. I think it does the best that could be done under the circumstances on behalf of the class. ... The litigation was complex in both liability and damages and required both professional skill and standing which class counsel demonstrated in abundance.

The entire settlement fund of $156 million was distributed without the filing of a single proof of claim form by any class member.

Wanstrath v. Doctor R. Crants, et al., C.A. No. 99-1719-III (Tenn. Chan. Ct., 20th Judicial District, 1999):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel in a derivative action filed against the officers and directors of Prison Realty Trust, Inc., challenging the transfer of assets from the Company to a private entity owned by several of the Company's top insiders. Numerous federal securities class actions were pending against the Company at this time. Through the derivative litigation, the Company's top management was ousted, the composition of the Board of Directors was significantly improved and important corporate governance provisions were put in place to prevent future abuse. Mr. Schiffrin, in addition to achieving these desirable results, was able to personally effectuate a global settlement of all pending litigation against the backdrop of an almost certain bankruptcy. The case was resolved in conjunction with the federal securities cases for the payment of approximately $50 million by the Company's insurers and the issuance of over 46 million shares to the class members.

Jordan v. State Farm Insurance Company, Case No. 97 CH 11 (Cir. Ct., McLean County, Ill. 1998): Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler brought a claim on behalf of multiple plaintiffs alleging that State Farm had engaged in fraudulent sales practices by "churning" policies and marketing and selling "vanishing premium" policies that never "vanished." After several years of discovery, motion practice and settlement negotiations, Mr. Schiffrin played a critical role in resolving the action for $225 million in cash, dividend enhancements and other monetary benefits for current and former State Farm policyholders. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler also has achieved substantial settlements in 20 additional cases alleging fraudulent sales practices by various insurance companies.

Mr. Schiffrin has also represented defrauded shareholders and companies in complex class and derivative actions, including the following:

Huscher v. Curley, et al., No. 00 Civ. 21379 (Mich. Cir. Ct., 2000) (In re Sotheby's Holdings, Inc. Derivative Litigation):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel in a derivative action arising out of Sotheby's alleged antitrust price fixing conspiracy with auction house rival Christie's International PLC. A multi-million dollar settlement was negotiated by Mr. Schiffrin whereby Diana Brooks (Sotheby's President at the time of the alleged wrongdoing) agreed to relinquish all of her Sotheby's stock options, and the Company's insurance carrier made a substantial monetary payment to the Company. In addition, significant changes in the Company's top management and Board of Directors were achieved in conjunction with the settlement of the litigation.

Andrew L. Barroway

Andrew L. Barroway, managing partner of the firm, received his law degree from the University of Pennsylvania Law School, where he was a member of the ABA Negotiation team. He is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States

District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Barroway frequently lectures on securities class action and lead plaintiff issues, and recently spoke at the 2005 Institutional Investor Hedge Fund Workshop in New York City and the Public Funds Summit 2005 in Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. Barroway has been actively involved in all aspects of litigation on behalf of the firm, and co-manages the firm's securities department. Of his numerous successful representations of shareholders, the following stand out as exceptional:

In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 6527 (S.D.N.Y. 2002):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as sole Lead Counsel in this action on behalf of an institutional investor and recently received final approval of a settlement consisting of $20 million in cash and 6,551,725 shares of IPG common stock. As of February 2005, the stock had an approximate value of $87 million, resulting in a total settlement value of approximately $107 million. In granting its approval, the Court praised Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler for acting responsibly and noted the firm's professionalism, competence and contribution to achieving such a favorable result.

In re Digital Lightwave, Inc. Securities Litigation, Consolidated Case No. 98-152-CIV-T-24E (M.D. Fla. 1999):

The firm served as Co-Lead Counsel in one of the nation's most successful securities class actions. After extensive litigation and negotiations, a settlement consisting primarily of stock ultimately grew to a value of over $170 million between the time in which the settlement was negotiated and the time at which it was distributed. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler took on the primary role in negotiating the terms of the equity component, insisting that the class have the right to share in any upward appreciation in the value of the stock after the settlement was reached. This recovery represented an astounding approximately two hundred percent (200%) of class members' losses. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler believes that this represents the largest percentage recovery for shareholders in securities class action history.

Mr. Barroway, along with his partner, Mr. Kessler, has also negotiated substantial settlements of securities class actions in which Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler was Lead or Co-Lead Counsel against Pinnacle Holdings, Cell Pathways, Gateway, Mercator and NetSolve. Mr. Barroway currently represents numerous public pension funds, private investment funds, money management firms, and individuals in securities fraud litigation as Lead or Co-Lead Counsel.

Marc A. Topaz

Marc A. Topaz, a senior partner of the firm, received his law degree from Temple University School of Law, where he was an editor of the Temple Law Review and a member of the Moot Court Honor Society. He also received his Master of Law (L.L.M.) in taxation from the New York University School of Law, where he served as an editor of the New York University Tax Law

Review. He is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Topaz manages the firm's derivative, transactional and antitrust departments. In this regard, Mr. Topaz has been actively involved in litigating the following prominent cases:

In re MTC Electronic Shareholder Litigation,*
No. CV-93-0876 (E.D.N.Y. 1993):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Counsel in a case involving securities fraud by MTC, its officers and directors, underwriters and accountants. The case presented novel issues of Chinese law, and required the construction of a database of hundreds of thousands of documents utilized in numerous party and non-party depositions. A $72 million settlement was achieved on the eve of trial.

In re Oppenheimer Capital, L.P., Unitholders Litigation,*
Consolidated No. 16022NC (Del. Ch. 1997):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that a merger proposed by Pimco Advisors benefitted certain Pimco insiders by disproportionately allocating tax benefits achieved from the restructuring of a limited partnership, and failing to provide adequate compensation to the Oppenheimer shareholders. Plaintiffs moved to enjoin the transaction and a settlement was reached whereby defendants agreed to pay a special dividend to Oppenheimer limited partners of approximately $16 million.

David Kessler

David Kessler, a senior partner of the firm, graduated with distinction from the Emory School of Law. He is licensed to practice in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey. Prior to practicing law,

Mr. Kessler was a Certified Public Accountant in Pennsylvania. Mr. Kessler is the co-managing partner of the firm along with Mr. Barroway and manages the firm's nationally recognized securities department. In addition, Mr. Kessler lectures on securities litigation and was a featured speaker on hot topics in securities litigation in a seminar entitled "The Explosion and Evolution of Class Action Law" in December 2004 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the Corporate Governance Summit on Corporate Accountability in July 2003 in New York City. Mr. Kessler has achieved the following outstanding results in federal securities cases:

In re Initial Public Offering Securities Litigation, Master File No. 21 MC 92 (SAS) (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 12, 2002):

Mr. Kessler, along with Mr. Schiffrin, is presently heading up the firm's litigation efforts in its prominent position as an Executive Committee member in this action. Of the sixty plaintiffs firms which originally filed actions in these coordinated proceedings, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler was one of only six selected to serve on the Executive Committee. The coordinated actions, which have been filed against 309 separate issuers of publicly traded securities, challenge the legality of the practices which accompany the allocations of shares in initial public offerings. In addition to suing the issuers of such securities, the 309 coordinated actions also name as defendants the primary investment banking firms which underwrote the offerings. This case, which has received a great deal of national and international media attention, is widely considered the largest securities class action litigation in history. At the present time, the court has preliminarily approved a $1 billion settlement with the issuers and their officers and directors. The class has also reached an agreement in principle to resolve the action against JP Morgan for $425 million, which is in the process of being memorialized and submitted to the Court for approval. The case is proceeding against the remaining underwriting defendants.

In re PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. Litigation, Case No. 02-CV-271 (W.D. Pa. 2002):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a $30 million recovery for class members from PNC and the assignment of certain claims it may have had against its audit and other third party law firms and insurance companies, with respect to an alleged fraudulent scheme wherein non-performing assets were removed from PNC's books and transferred to special purpose entities that PNC allegedly still controlled. An additional $6.6 million was recovered from the insurance company and the law firms and an agreement in principle has now been reached with the audit to resolve all claims for another $9.075 million, providing for a total recovery from the securities litigation of $45.675 million upon approval of the auditor settlement. When coupled with the $156 million restitution fund established through government actions against some of the same defendants and third parties, the total recovery for class members exceeds $200 million.

In re Assisted Living Concepts, Inc. Securities Litigation, Lead Case No. 99-167-AA (D. Or. 1999):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a $30 million recovery for class members from the Company, its executive officers and directors, and several underwriters for their role in an alleged complex accounting fraud involving the use of a purportedly independent joint venture to absorb the Company's startup losses. Even after this $30 million recovery, through counsel's efforts, an additional $12.5 million was obtained from the auditors providing for a total recovery of $42.5 million.

In re Cumulus Media Inc. Securities Litigation, Lead Case No. 00-C-391 (E.D. Wis. 2000):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel and successfully litigated the action and negotiated a settlement of $13 million in cash and 240,000 shares of freely tradable stock in Cumulus Media, which traded for approximately $19 per share, for a total settlement value of $17.5 million at the time the settlement was approved by the Court.

Katharine M. Ryan

Katharine M. Ryan, a partner of the firm, graduated cum laude from Villanova University School of Law in May 1984. Ms. Ryan is admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, the Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and the United States Supreme Court. Ms. Ryan recently participated as a speaker in a legal teleconference entitled "Is the PSLRA's Safe Harbor Provision Safe?" Ms. Ryan is actively involved in litigating several of the firm's most prominent cases and was integral in the excellent results achieved in the following cases:

In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 6527 (S.D.N.Y. 2002):

Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as sole Lead Counsel in this action on behalf of an institutional investor and recently received final approval of a settlement consisting of $20 million in cash and 6,551,725 shares of IPG common stock. As of February 2005, the stock had an approximate value of $87 million, resulting in a total settlement value of approximately $107 million. In granting its approval, the Court praised Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler for acting responsibly and noted the firm's professionalism, competence and contribution to achieving such a favorable result.

In re New Power Holdings, Inc. Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 1550 (S.D.N.Y. 2002):

Mr. Berman has specialized in the area of securities litigation for the past nine years. He is particularly proud of the results achieved in In re AremisSoft Corp. Sec. Litig., C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002), a case on which Mr. Berman and his partner, Richard Schiffman, have worked extensively. This case was exceedingly complicated, as it involved the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company, some of whom are now fugitives. In settling the action, Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler, as sole Lead Counsel, assisted in reorganizing AremisSoft as a new Company which allowed for it to continue operations, while successfully separating out the securities fraud claims and the bankrupt Company's claims into a litigation trust. The Settlement, which was approved by the Court, called for the class to receive the majority of the equity in the new Company, as well as their pro rata share of all amounts recovered by the litigation.

tion trust. The Court-appointed co-trustees, Joseph P. LaSala, Esq. and Fred S. Zeidman, retained Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler to continue prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust. After extensive litigation in the Isle of Man, including the successful freezing of more than $200 million of stolen funds, the trust recently settled its action against one of the principal wrongdoers and recovered approximately $200 million. Thus far, the trust has distributed to beneficiaries of the trust more than 28% of their recognized losses (excluding the value of the equity of the new Company), and is poised to recover even more. Recently, the trust commenced further litigation in Cyprus, where it obtained a Mareva injunction and interim ancillary relief against bank accounts and assets owned and/or controlled by the other principal wrongdoer.

Mr. Castaldo has been actively involved in litigation the following cases:

In re Tenet Healthcare Corp., 02-CV-8462 (C.D.Cal.):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs, alleging that Tenet Healthcare and certain of its officers and directors defrauded Medicare out of hundreds of millions of dollars, materially overstated Tenet's revenues, and performed unnecessary cardiac surgeries to increase the Company's earnings. After three years of hard-fought litigation and complex mediation, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler helped obtain a settlement involving a $216.5 million payment from Tenet and the Company's former CEO and COO, and specific corporate governance improvements.

In re Liberate Technologies Securities Litigation, No. C-02-5017 (MJJ) (N.D. Cal. 2005):

Plaintiffs alleged that Liberate engaged in fraudulent revenue recognition practices to artificially inflate the price of its stock, ultimately forcing it to restate its earnings. As sole Lead Counsel, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler successfully negotiated a $13.8 million settlement, which represents almost 40% of the damages suffered by the class. In approving the settlement, the district court complimented Lead Counsel for its "extremely credible and competent job."

In re CVS Corporation Securities Litigation, C.A. No. 01-11464 JLT (D.Mass.):

After more than three years of contentious litigation and a series of protracted mediation sessions, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler, serving as co-lead counsel, secured a $110 million recovery for class members in the CVS Securities Litigation. Specifically, the suit alleged that CVS violated accounting practices by delaying discounts on merchandise in an effort to prop up its earnings. In addition, the suit charged that in 2001, the Company and its Chief Executive Officer, Thomas M. Ryan, improperly delayed announcement of its intention to close approximately 200 underperforming stores, and that an industry-wide pharmacist shortage would have a materially negative impact on the Company's performance. Settlement was reached just days prior to the commencement of trial, and shortly after the district court had denied the defendants' motions for summary judgment. This substantial recovery, which represents the third-largest settlement in a securities class action case in the First Circuit, received final approval from District Judge Joseph Tauro on September 27, 2004.

In re InfoSpace, Inc. Securities Litigation, Master File No. C-01-0913-Z (D. Wash. 2001):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that InfoSpace and certain of its officers and directors overstated revenues by using improper accounting methods, overstated the demand for InfoSpace's wireless services, misstated InfoSpace's financial relationships with major customers, and falsely represented that InfoSpace would receive subscription fees from users of web-enabled cell phones. After two years of hard-fought litigation and complex mediation, a settlement of $34.3 million was obtained for members of the class.

In re Riverstone Networks, Inc. Securities Litigation,*
Case No. CV-02-3581 (N.D. Cal. 2002):

Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that Riverstone and certain of its officers and directors sought to create the impression that the Company, despite the industry-wide downturn in the telecom sector, had the ability to prosper and succeed and was actually prospering. In that regard, plaintiffs alleged that defendants issued a series of false and misleading statements concerning the Company's financial condition, sales and prospects, and used inside information to personally profit. After extensive litigation, the parties entered into formal mediation with the Honorable Charles Legge (Ret.). Following five-months of mediation, the parties reached a settlement of $18.5 million.
